STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Continued decline in the availability of concessional funds from the Government and the Reserve Bank of India over the years as also the changes in the past several months in the financial sector have made it obligatory for the Industrial Finance Corporation of India (IFCI) to raise resources largely from the market. However, the Industrial Finance Corporation Act, 1948 forbids IFCI's accessability to the market, only when backed by a Government guarantee, and thereby prevents it from raising resources on competitive terms. Further, the Act also provides for very dominant role to its major shareholder namely, the Industrial Development Bank of India, in the functioning of the IFCI. This is considered anomalous as the two institutions are competitors.

- 2. To deal with these problems and in particular to ensure greater flexibility and consequent ability of IFCI to respond to the needs of the fast changing financial system, the Industrial Finance Corporation (Transfer of Undertaking and Repeal) Ordinance, 1992 was promulgated on 1st October, 1992. Subsequently, the Industrial Finance Corporation (Transfer of Undertaking and Repeal) Bill. 1992 was introduced in the Lok Sabha on 30th November, The Bill could not be passed during the Winter Session of Parliament. As such the Industrial Finance Corporation (Transfer of Undertaking and Repeal) Ordinance, 1993 was promulgated by the President on 2nd January, 1993 to replace the said Ordinance. The latter Ordinance provides for the establishment of a new Company under the Companies Act, 1956 to be known as the Industrial Finance Corporation of India Limited to which the entire business and functions of IFCI as well as all the assets and liabilities and the staff of IFCI will be transferred on the appointed day to be notified by the Government and also to repeal the Industrial Finance Corporation Act, 1948. Conversion of IFCI into a Company would also enable it to reshape its business strategies, provide greater autonomy, enter the capital market for resources, facilitate expansion of the equity base of the Corporation in future, and create a more levelled playing field across broadly similar financial institutions.
- 3. The Bill seeks to replace the Industrial Finance Corporation (Transfer of Undertaking and Repeal) Ordinance, 1993.
